Mr. Mollrich,

I have received your response and at your request, I will begin drafting questions for your response. Please understand that our original plan was to have more of a roundtable discussion knowing that depending on your response to some initial questions, that would lead to additional questions.

I will send through our initial draft of questions once they are complete, but please know that based on your responses, there will probably be additional sets of questions submitted to you, so the first set will not be the final.

I apologize for any misunderstanding of contacting your other employees, your receptionist gave me Ms. Maloney's information and I reached out to her following the receipt of that information.

We appreciate your cooperation and prompt response to our request.

Best Regards,

Jeff

Subject: Great Park Questions

Mr. Mollrich,

My name is Jeff George and my firm has been hired by the city of Irvine to do a contract review of all the contracts awarded to the Great Park project to date. We are currently in the process of interviewing members of the great park design studio, former and current Great park staff members, and others. With your firm being a part of the great park design studio, we would like to sit down with you to go over the process and help us better tell the overall story.

I reached out to MaryAnn Maloney yesterday, as she was the employee who billed the most hours it appeared, and she suggested it would be best if I spoke with you. We want to go through some of the invoice descriptions and just get a better understanding of all the services you were providing over time and help us tell the whole story of all your services. If that means we should talk with someone like Maryann, please make sure she also comes to the meeting.

Are you available next Tuesday or Wednesday to talk? I have a feeling this will take a few hours, so please take that into consideration when giving your availability.

If you have any questions, don't hesitate to call.

Best Regards,

Jeff
